Joalyn,

Well, here I am again. I just pop up at any old time.

I'm going to try to tell you how much you have helped me, and due to a shortage of vocabulary, I will more than likely fail!

Having you for one of my "best" friends has meant so much to me. I can never forget our "conglabs" over our problems (usually our loves.)

When I felt sad and ~~needed~~ to cry, you took my mind off of
it. Once, we went skating & it was there I discovered someone with green eyes! (HA)

You are one of the sweetest people(?) I have ever known.

I love you very much & hope if we never lose contact with each other (if that can be possible)

I love you

Foreword

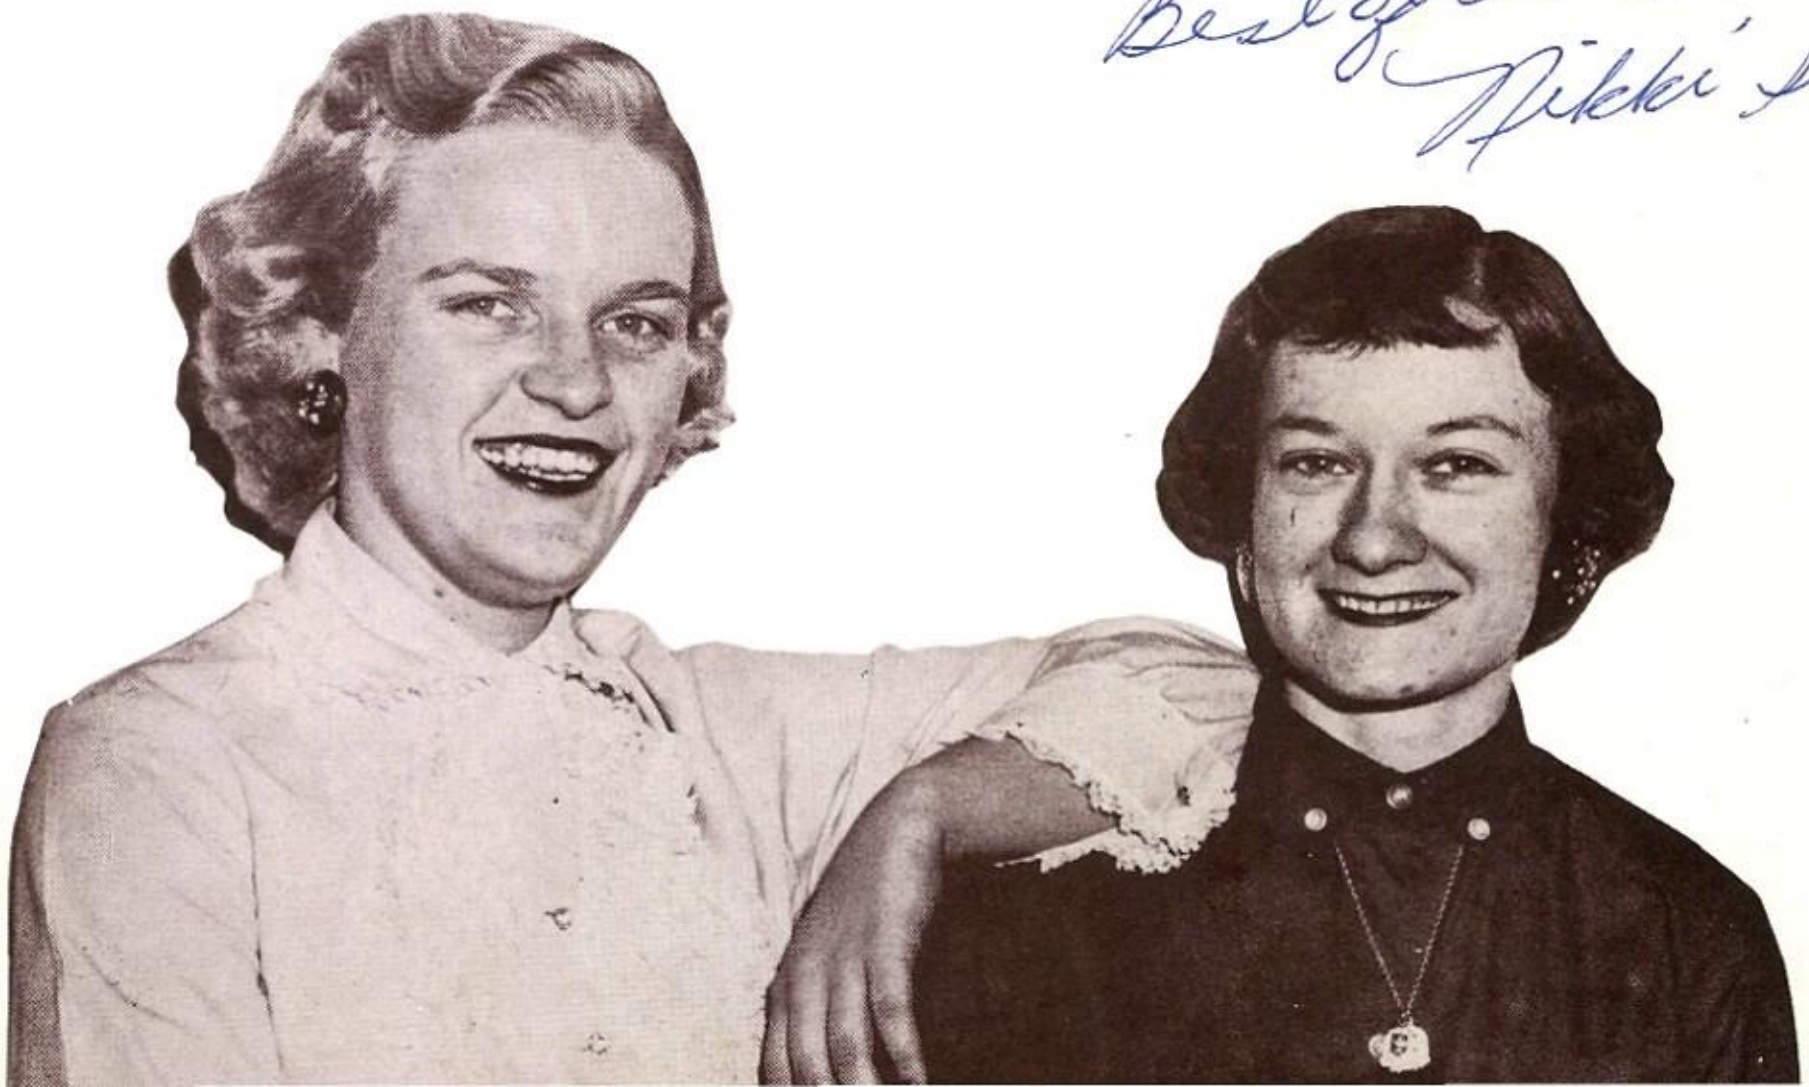

"WHEN AUTUMN LEAVES BEGIN TO FALL," we of the Plainview Staff started work on the '57 book in hopes that it would be the best.

As you turn the pages of this book through years to come, may your memories mellow and become—as autumn leaves—multi-hued and beautiful.

MRS. LOUISE JOACHIM has given of her time, efforts, and interests to students of PHS. Because of her loyalty to high ideals and her interest in attaining them, the Annual staff dedicates this '57 PLAIN VIEW to her.

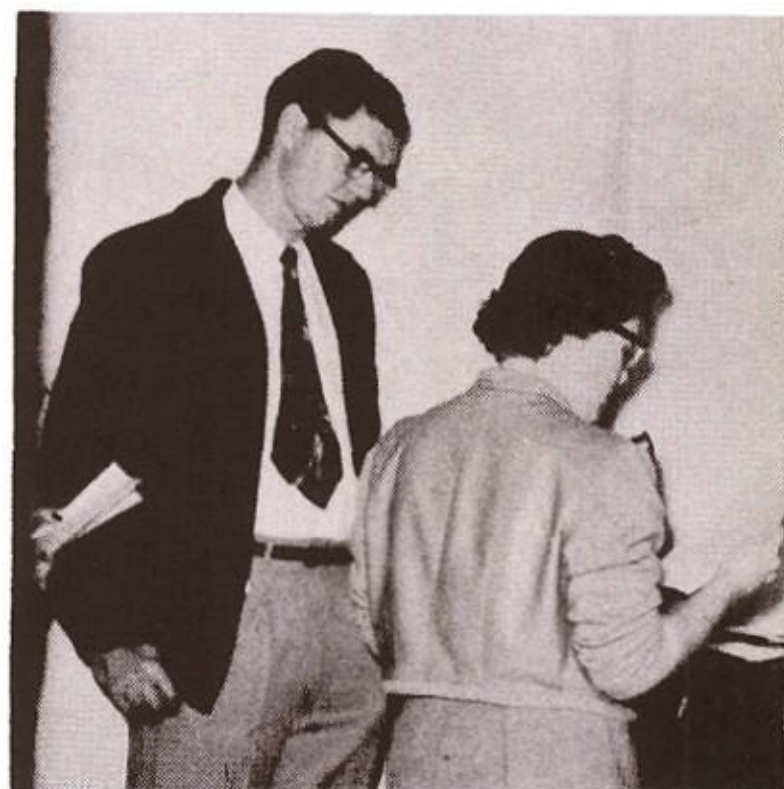

When Autumn Leaves . . .

If you want to see this, you will have to come early or stay late.

Through the . . .

WHEN AUTUMN LEAVES BEGAN TO FALL . . . students and faculty began the '56-'57 school year. After registration September 1 and 2, PHS soon settled down to the routine of the normal school day.

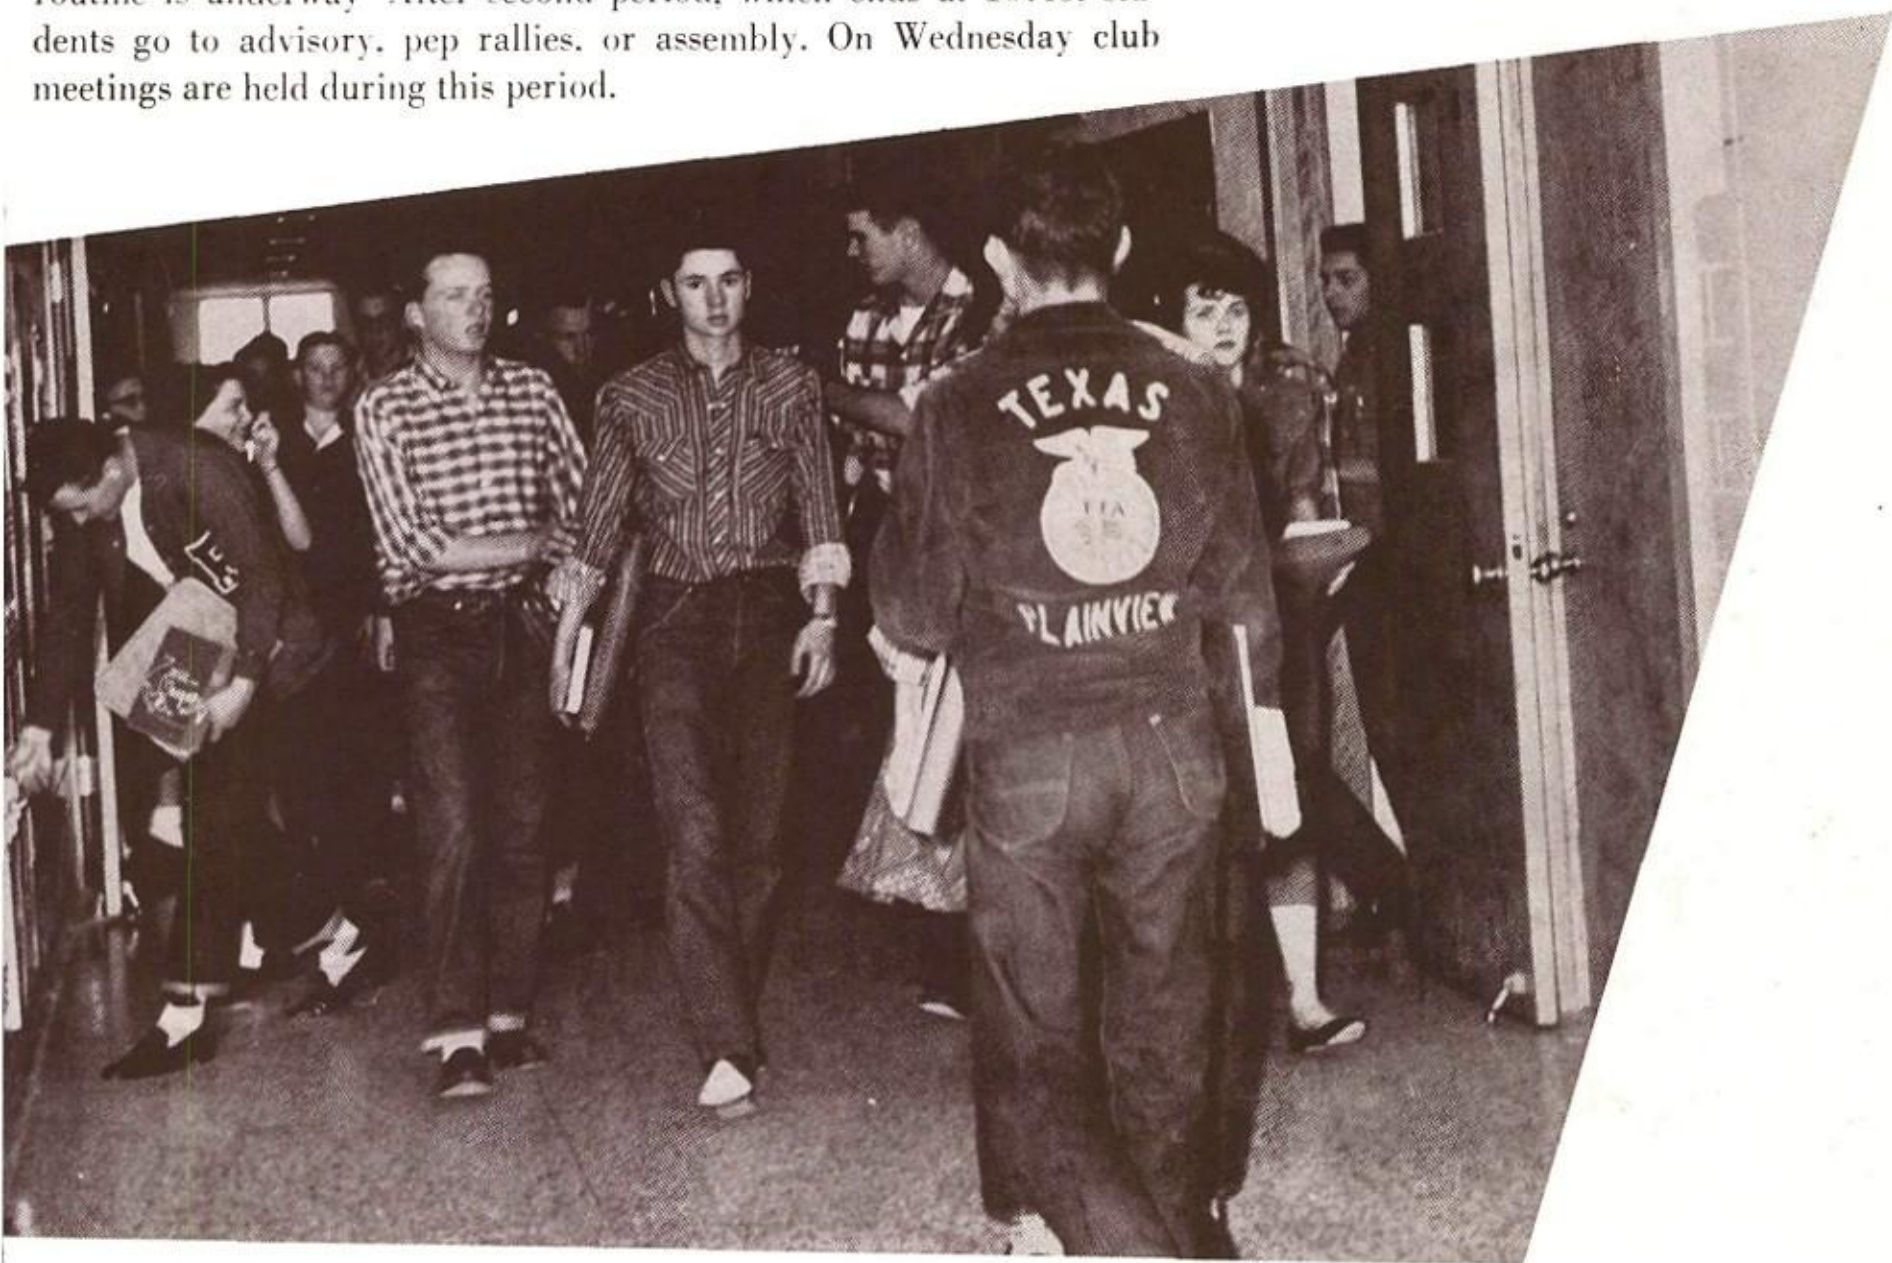

Pam Poole gives the devotional.

Life in Plainview High begins around 8:00 A.M. as students convene in groups in the cafeteria to await the 8:30 bell. Here they may have breakfast of milk, orange juice, and rolls and visit with friends.

By 8:30 most of the buses have unloaded, and the students start drifting into first period classes.

Began to Fall . . .

With the morning devotional and opening exercises, our daily routine is underway. After second period, which ends at 10:45, students go to advisory, pep rallies, or assembly. On Wednesday club meetings are held during this period.

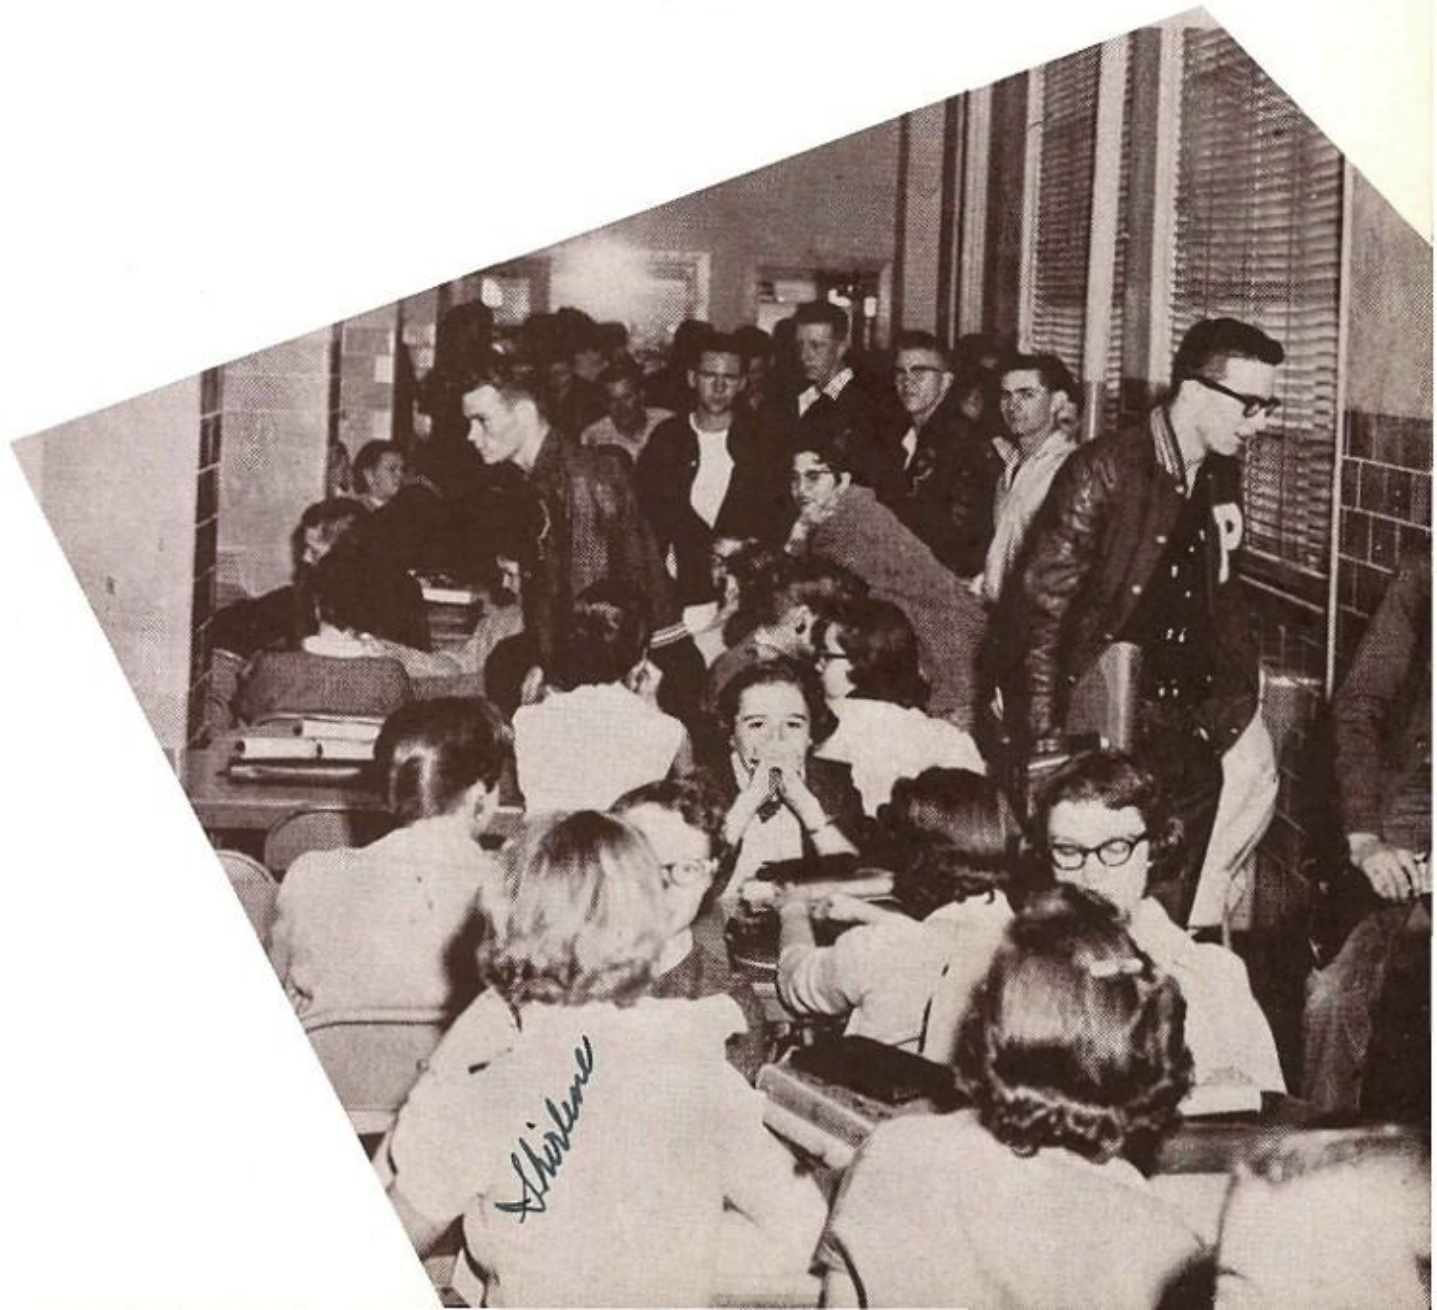

Typical scene between classes as students scurry to make the next class before the five minute tardy bell.

Day . . .

During football season, every Friday is pep rally day, and students spend the time boosting the Bulldog spirit. Assemblies of various types are held on the average of once a week. Sometimes, the program is educational, others are entertaining only. Movies are sponsored from time to time for the students.

During the noon hour, hungry students await their turn in the cafeteria. Lunch hour for the approximate 1000 PHS students is divided into two periods, one beginning at 12:05 and the one at 12:30.

Students gather in the mornings to await the 8:30 bell.

"Drift by . .

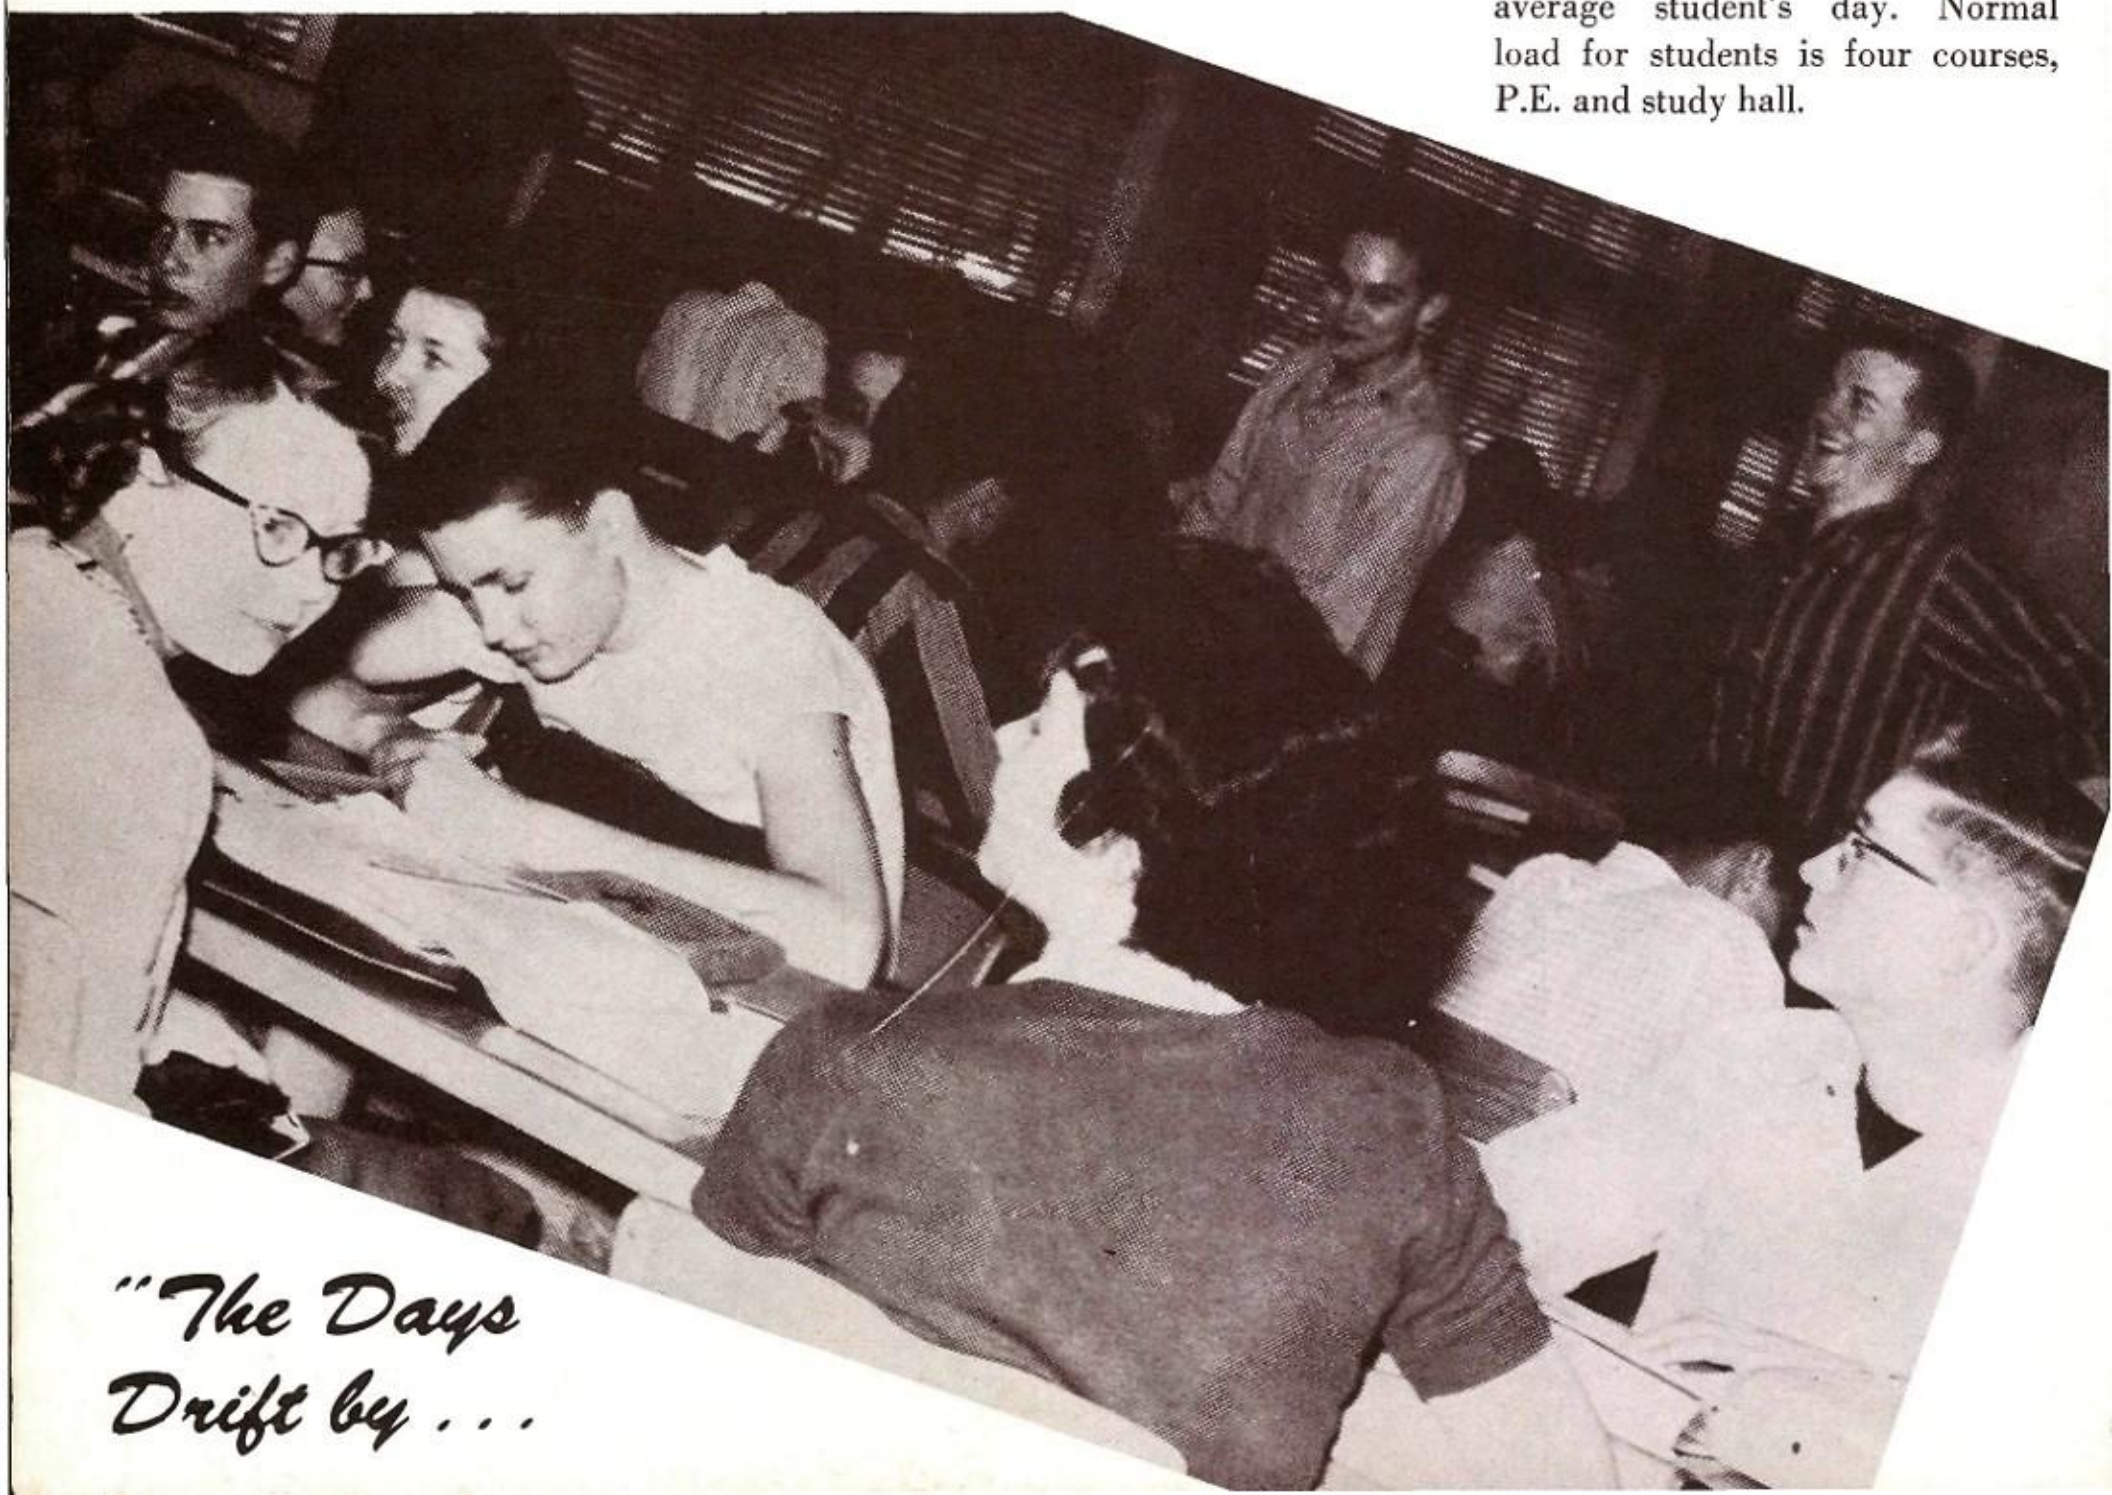

Jane White, Annie Sue James, and Miss Holley are on hand to aid. Nancy Robinson checks out books.

The library is a favorite meeting place for many of the students to read for pleasure as well as to do research work for their classes. A group of girls is always on hand to see that students are aided. Miss Holley is there to aid the students in every way possible.

Mattie Bannister chats, Wildean listens. Some are studying.

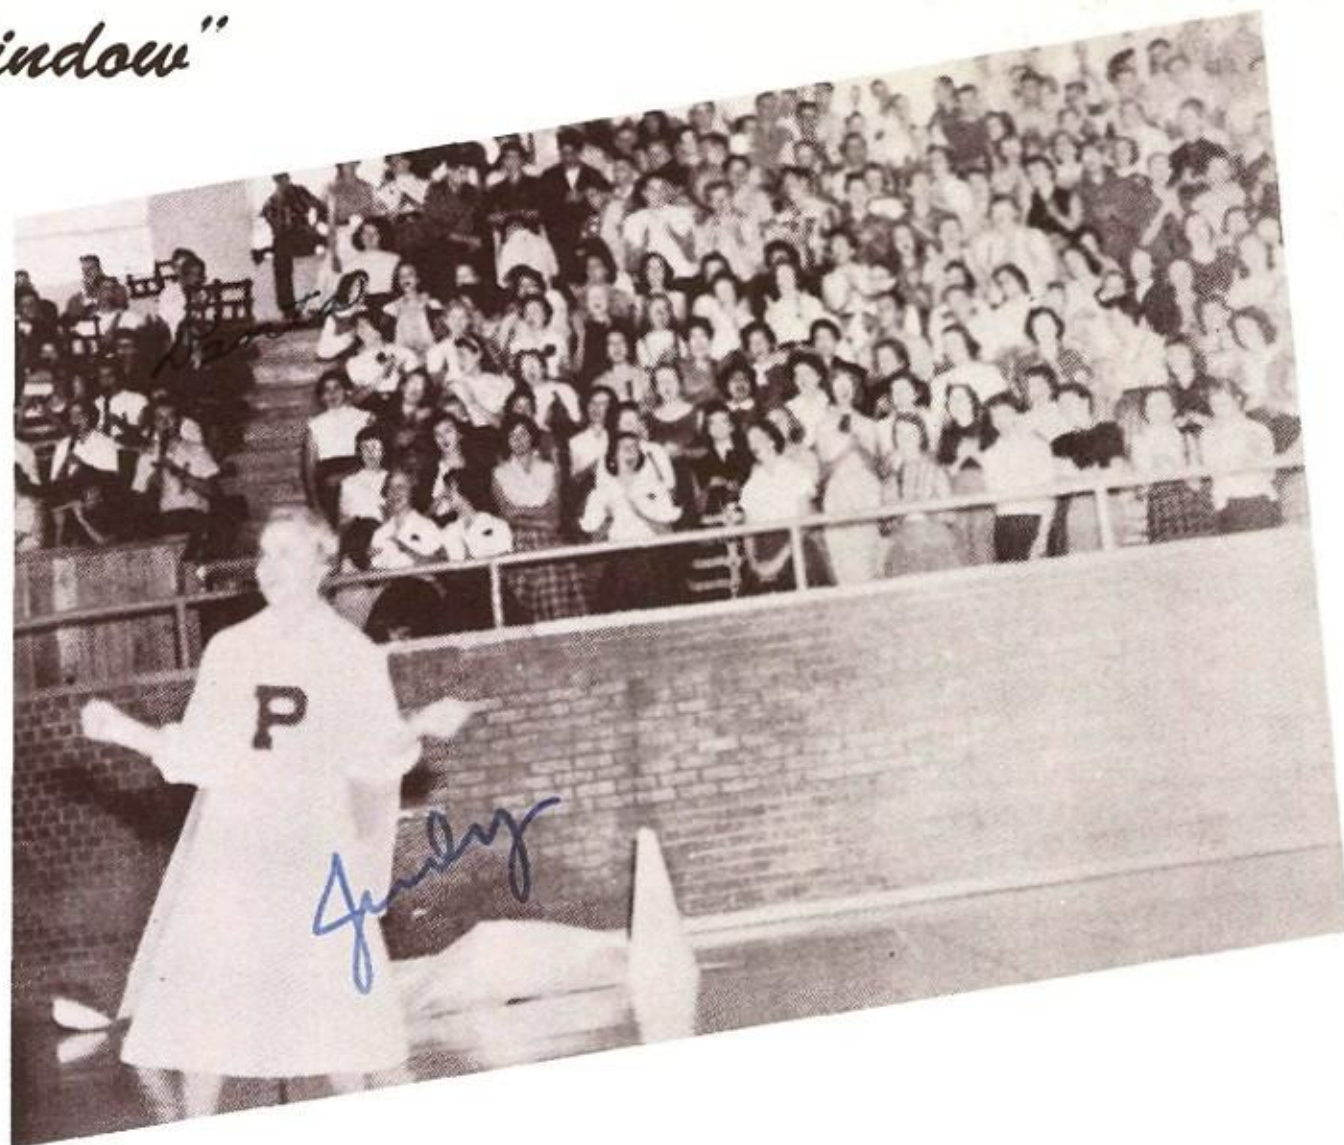

Study hall is another part of the average student's day. Normal load for students is four courses, P.E. and study hall.

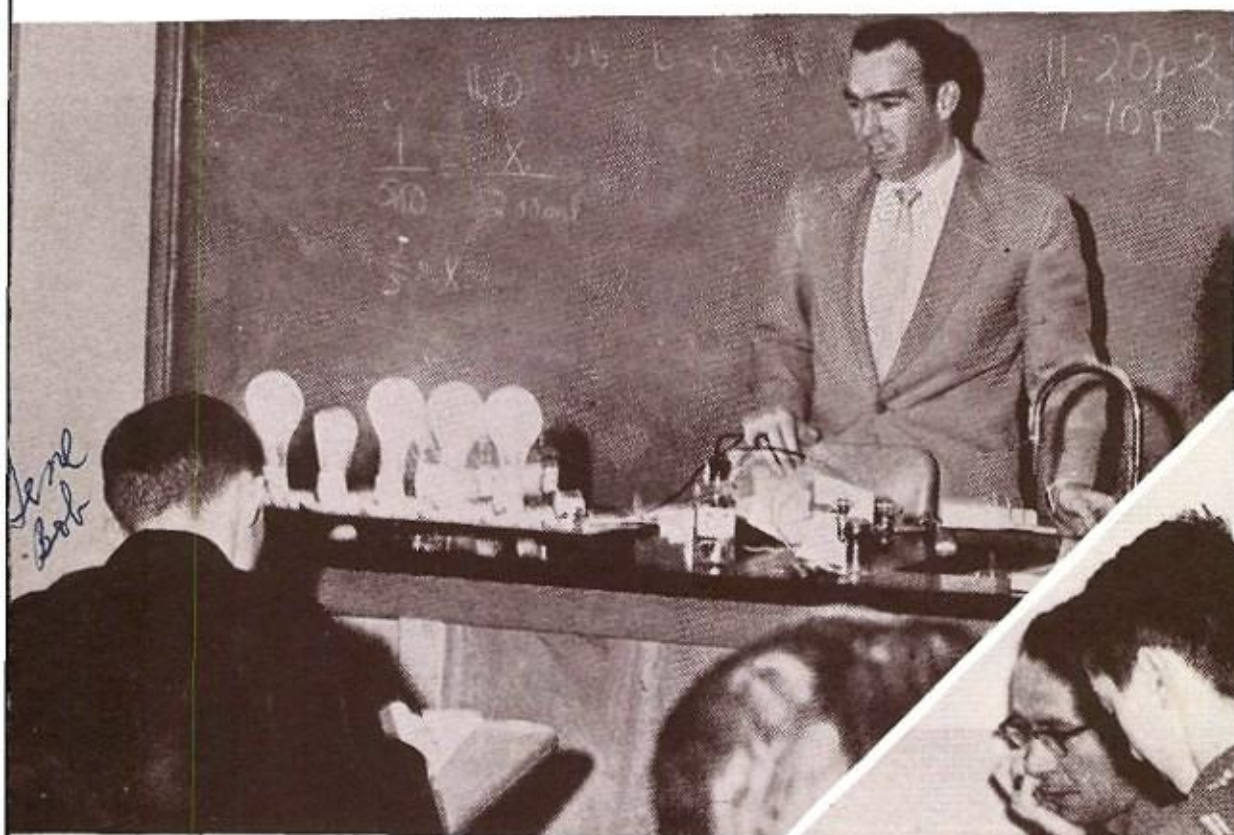

*"The Days
Drift by . . .*

...My Window"

Throughout the year, pep rallies are held for the various sports to aid in boosting the PHS spirit for all athletic contests.

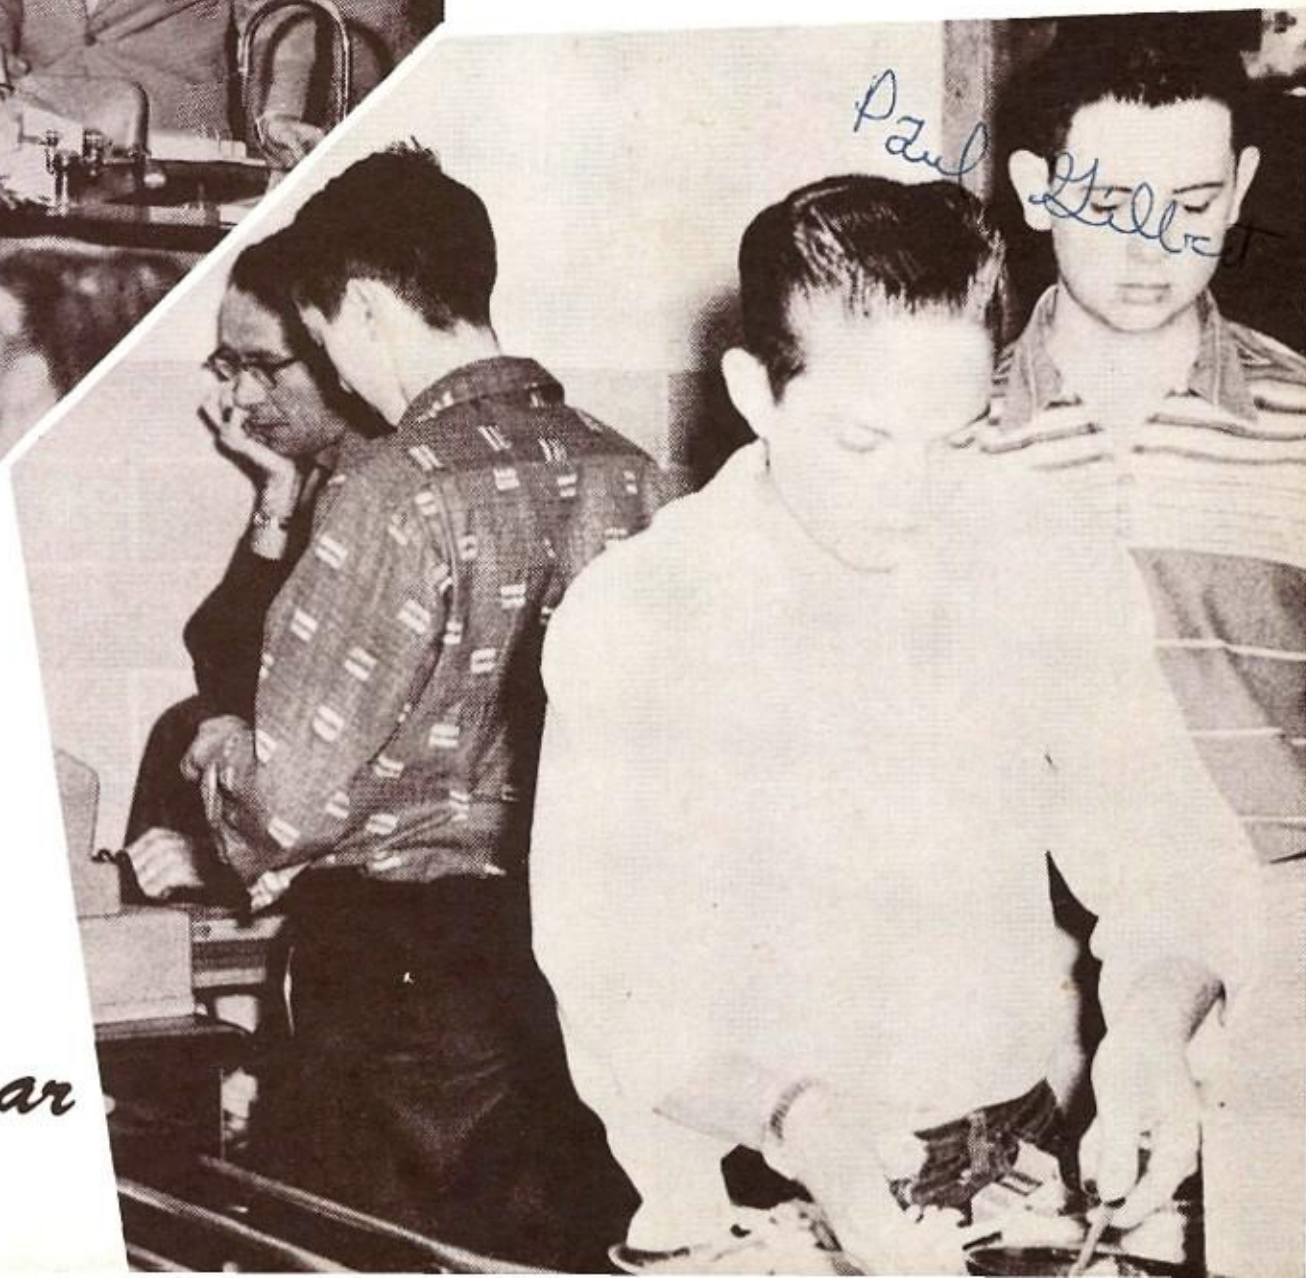

After the lunch hour, all students are back in classes (they are part of the daily schedule, but students prefer to forget sometimes) until 3:45 when the rush is on. Students are homeward bound — that is all except the athletes, whose sport is in season, and detentioners who have an extra hour to put in.

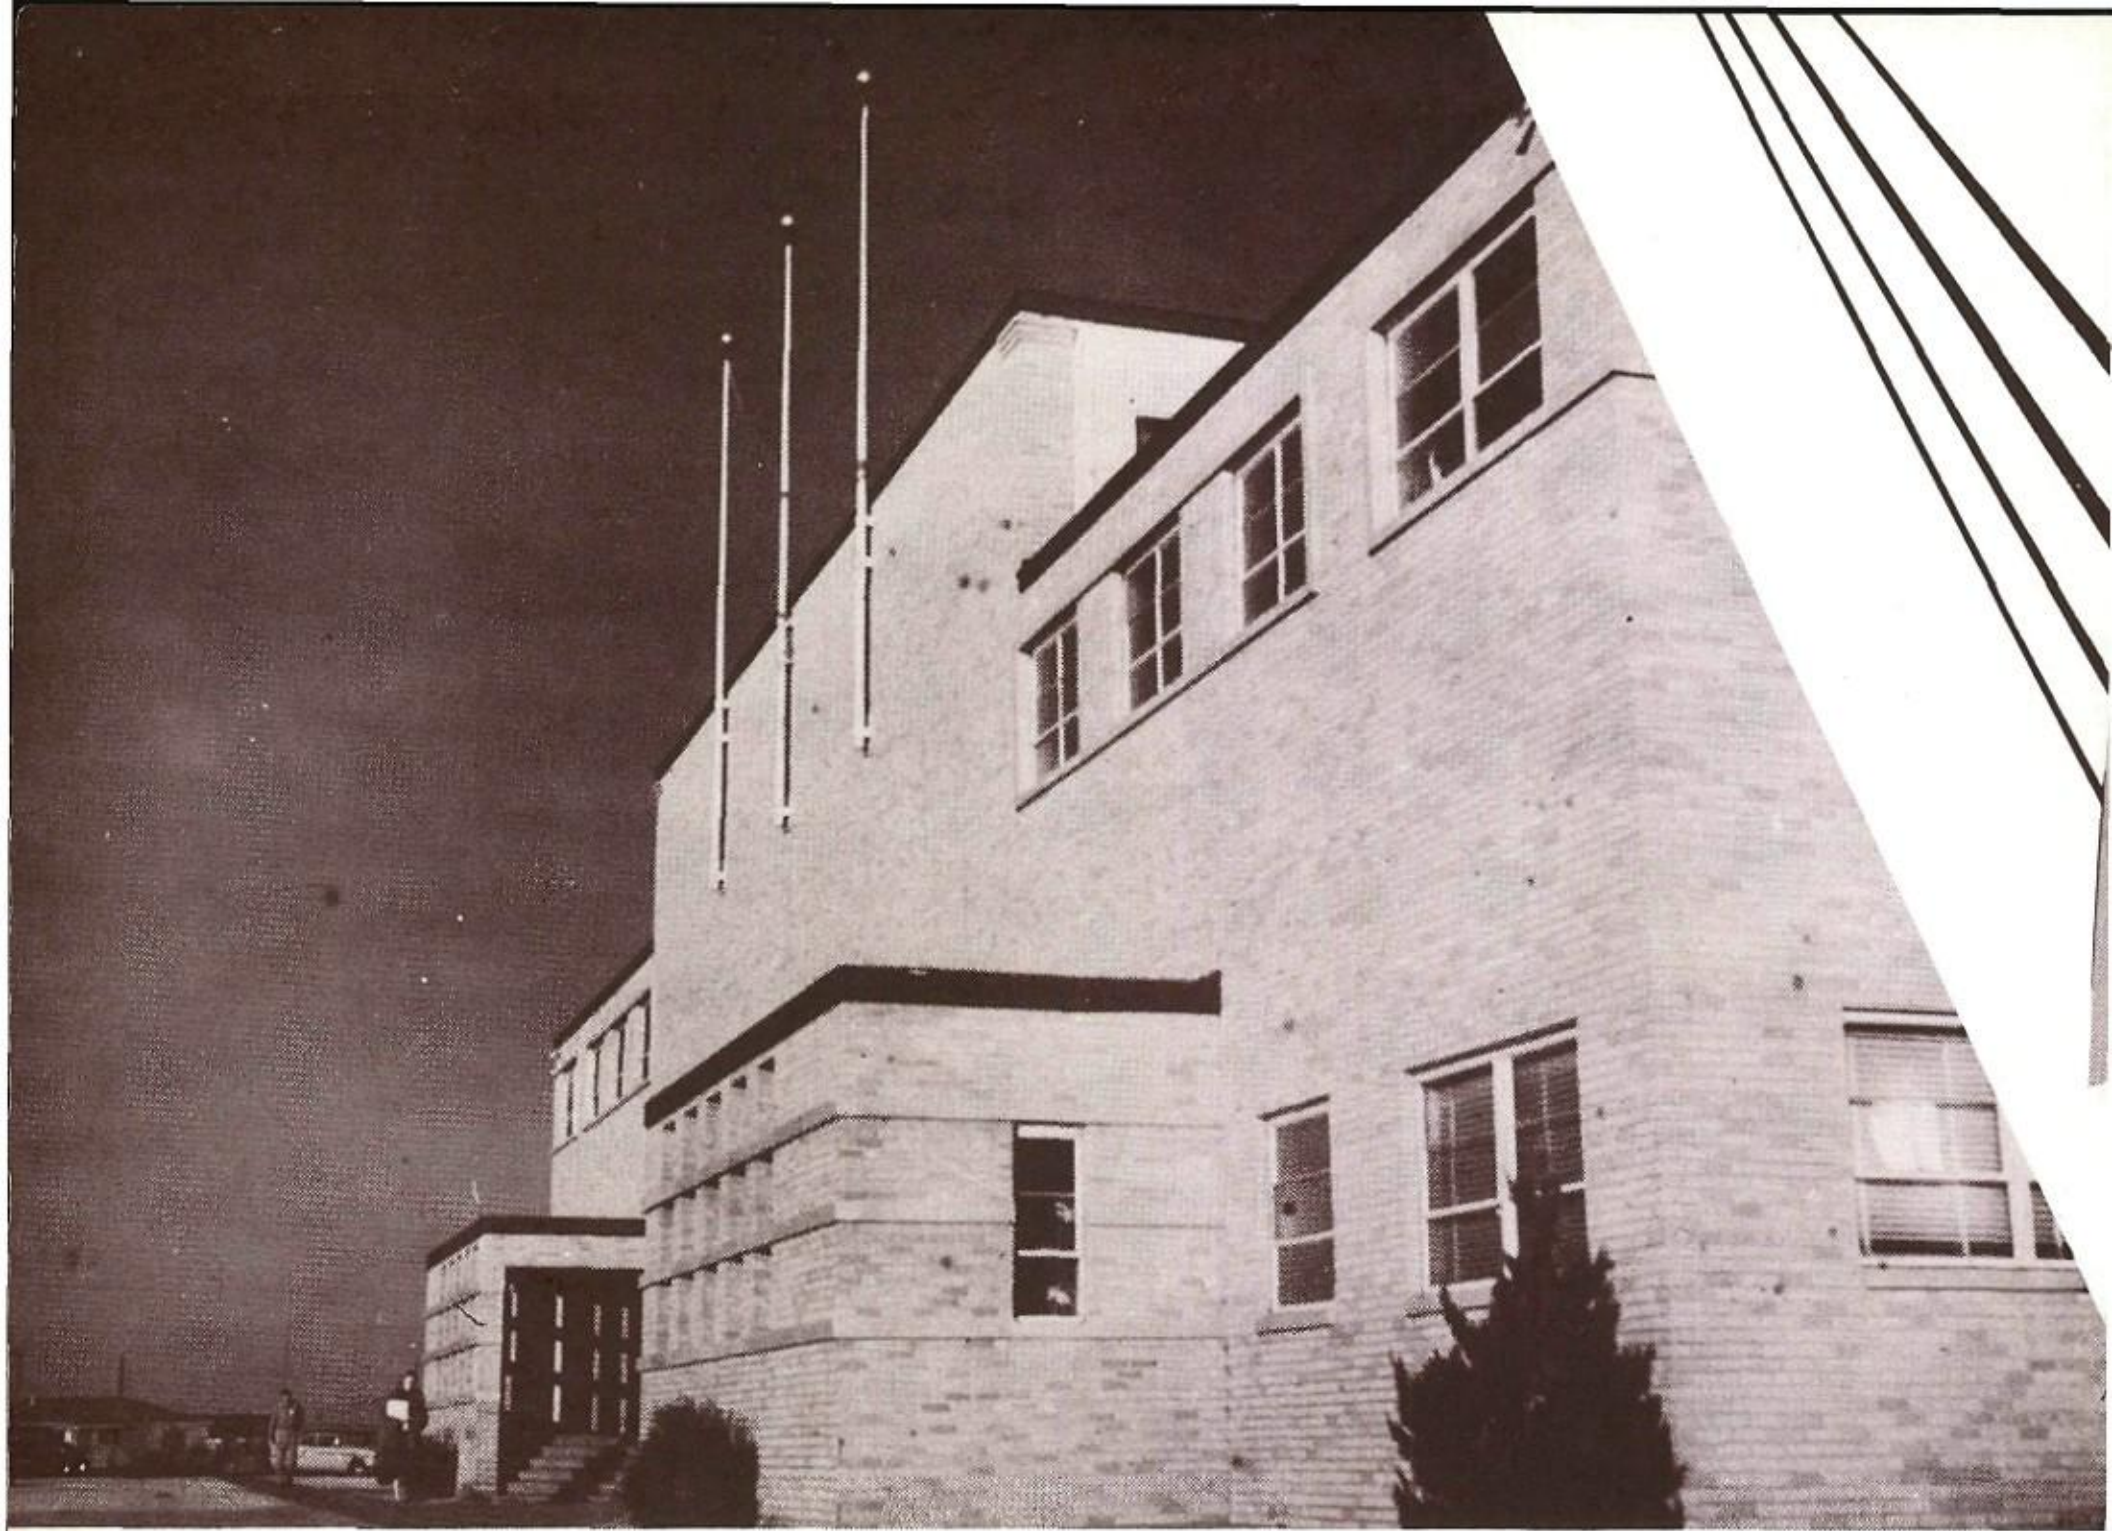

Students may have lunch or they may eat at the snack bar operated in connection with the cafeteria.

Through all the days of autumn, winter, and spring, students of PHS follow a routine, but always there is something new, something different to keep them busy and happy . . . and soon the year is gone.

and Soon You'll Hear Winters' Song"

Bulldog Gym is the site of all basketball games as well as serving girls' and boys' Physical Education. Seats approximately 1500.

Educational . . .

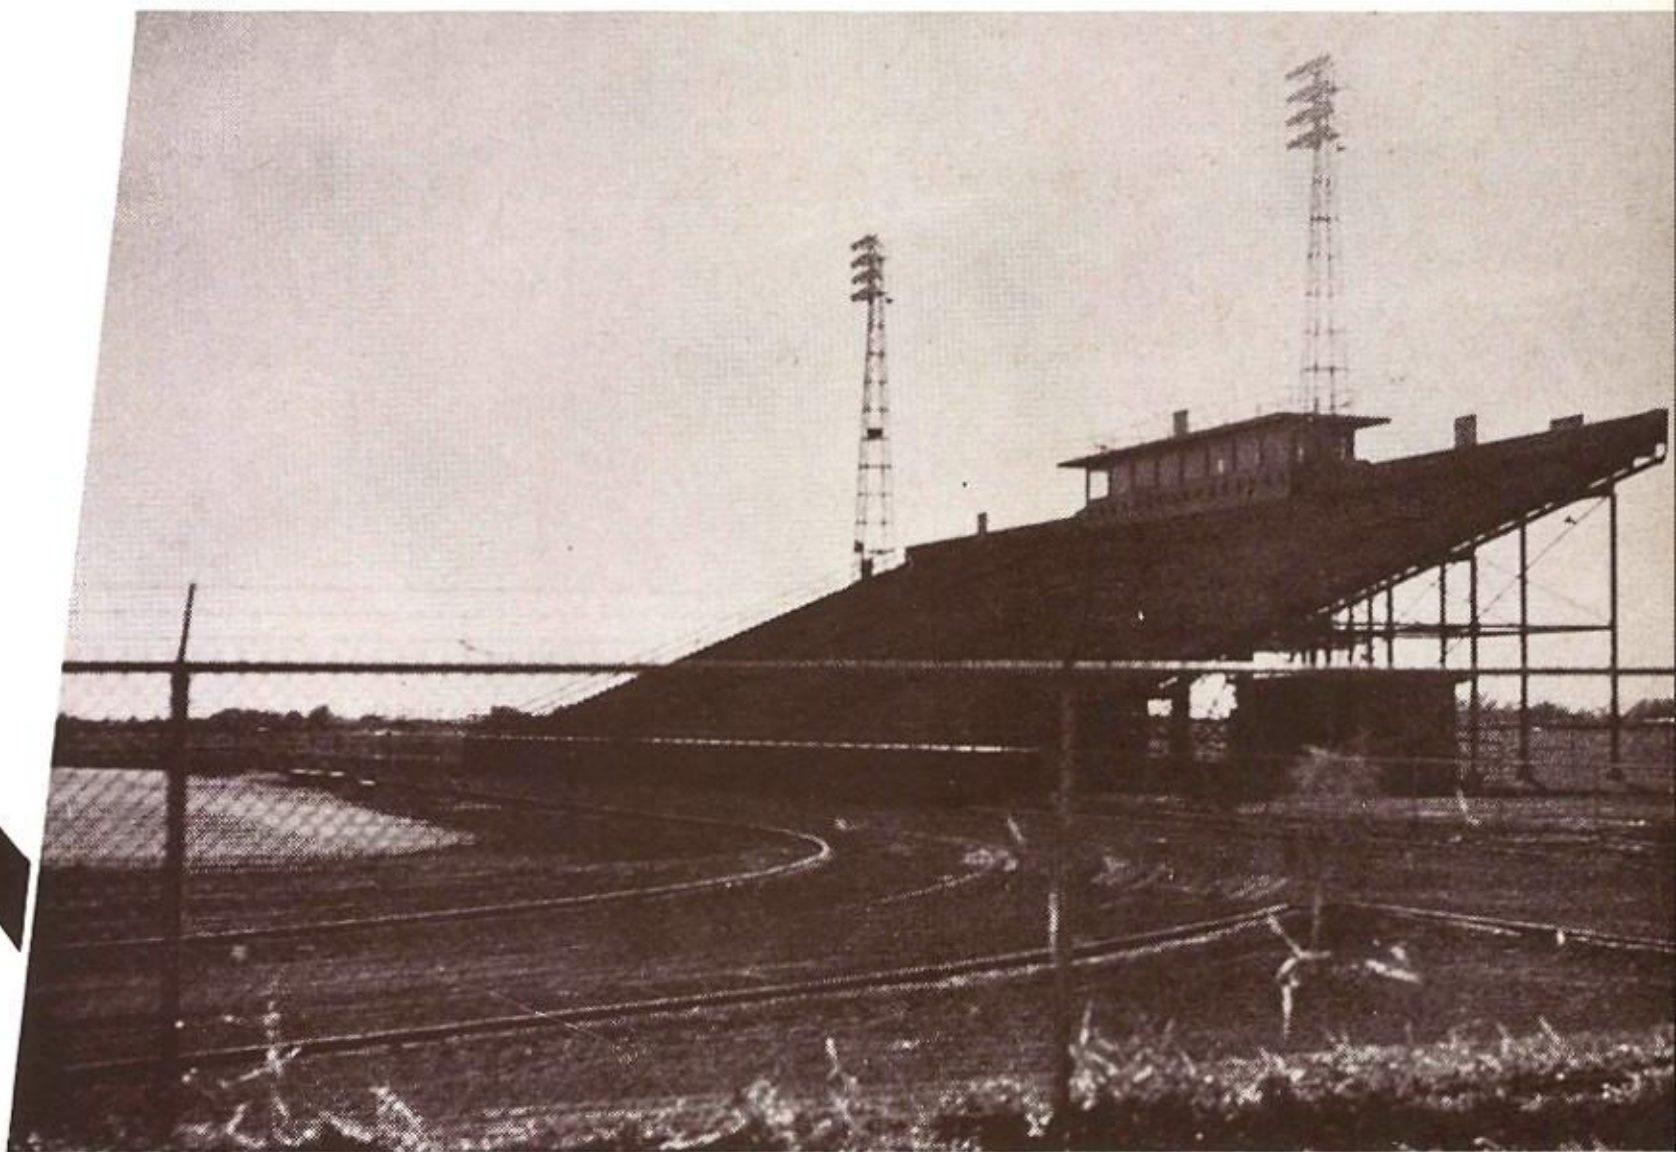

PHS Main Building—contains 31 classrooms, choir and band halls and auditorium, library and cafeteria.

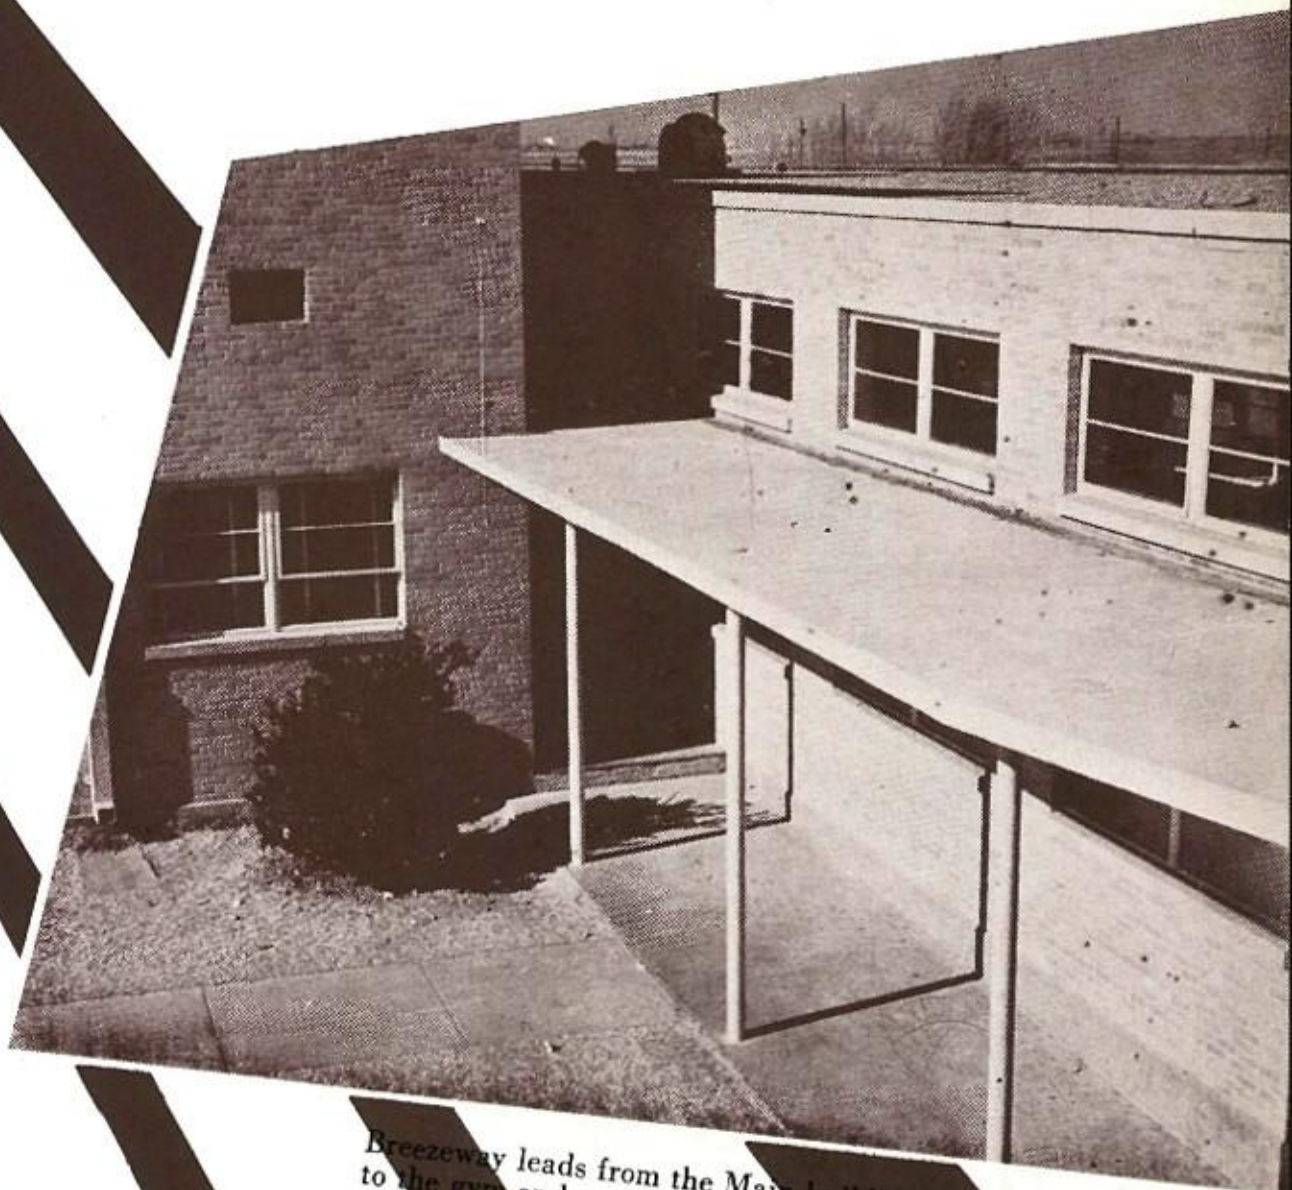

Parking lot accommodates students and teachers.

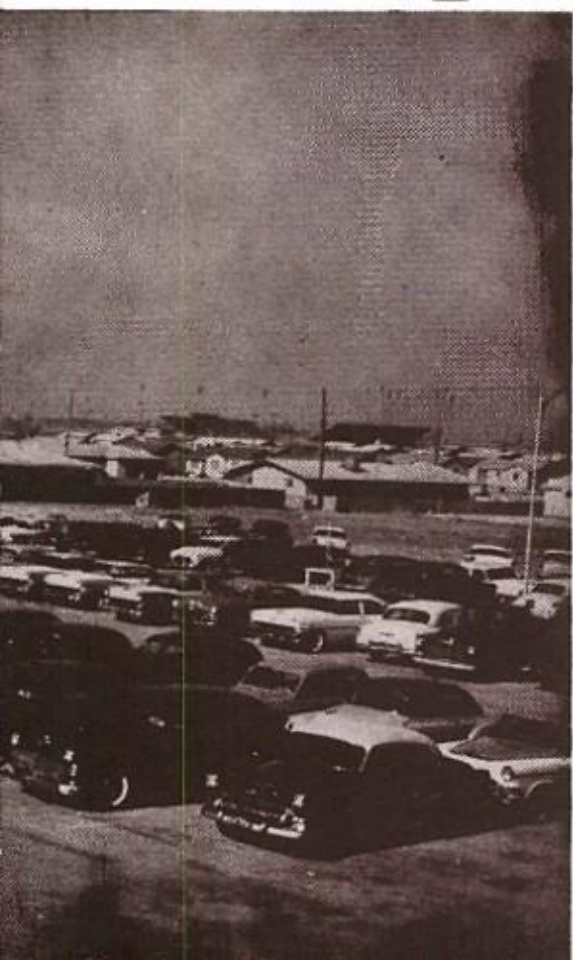

... Investments

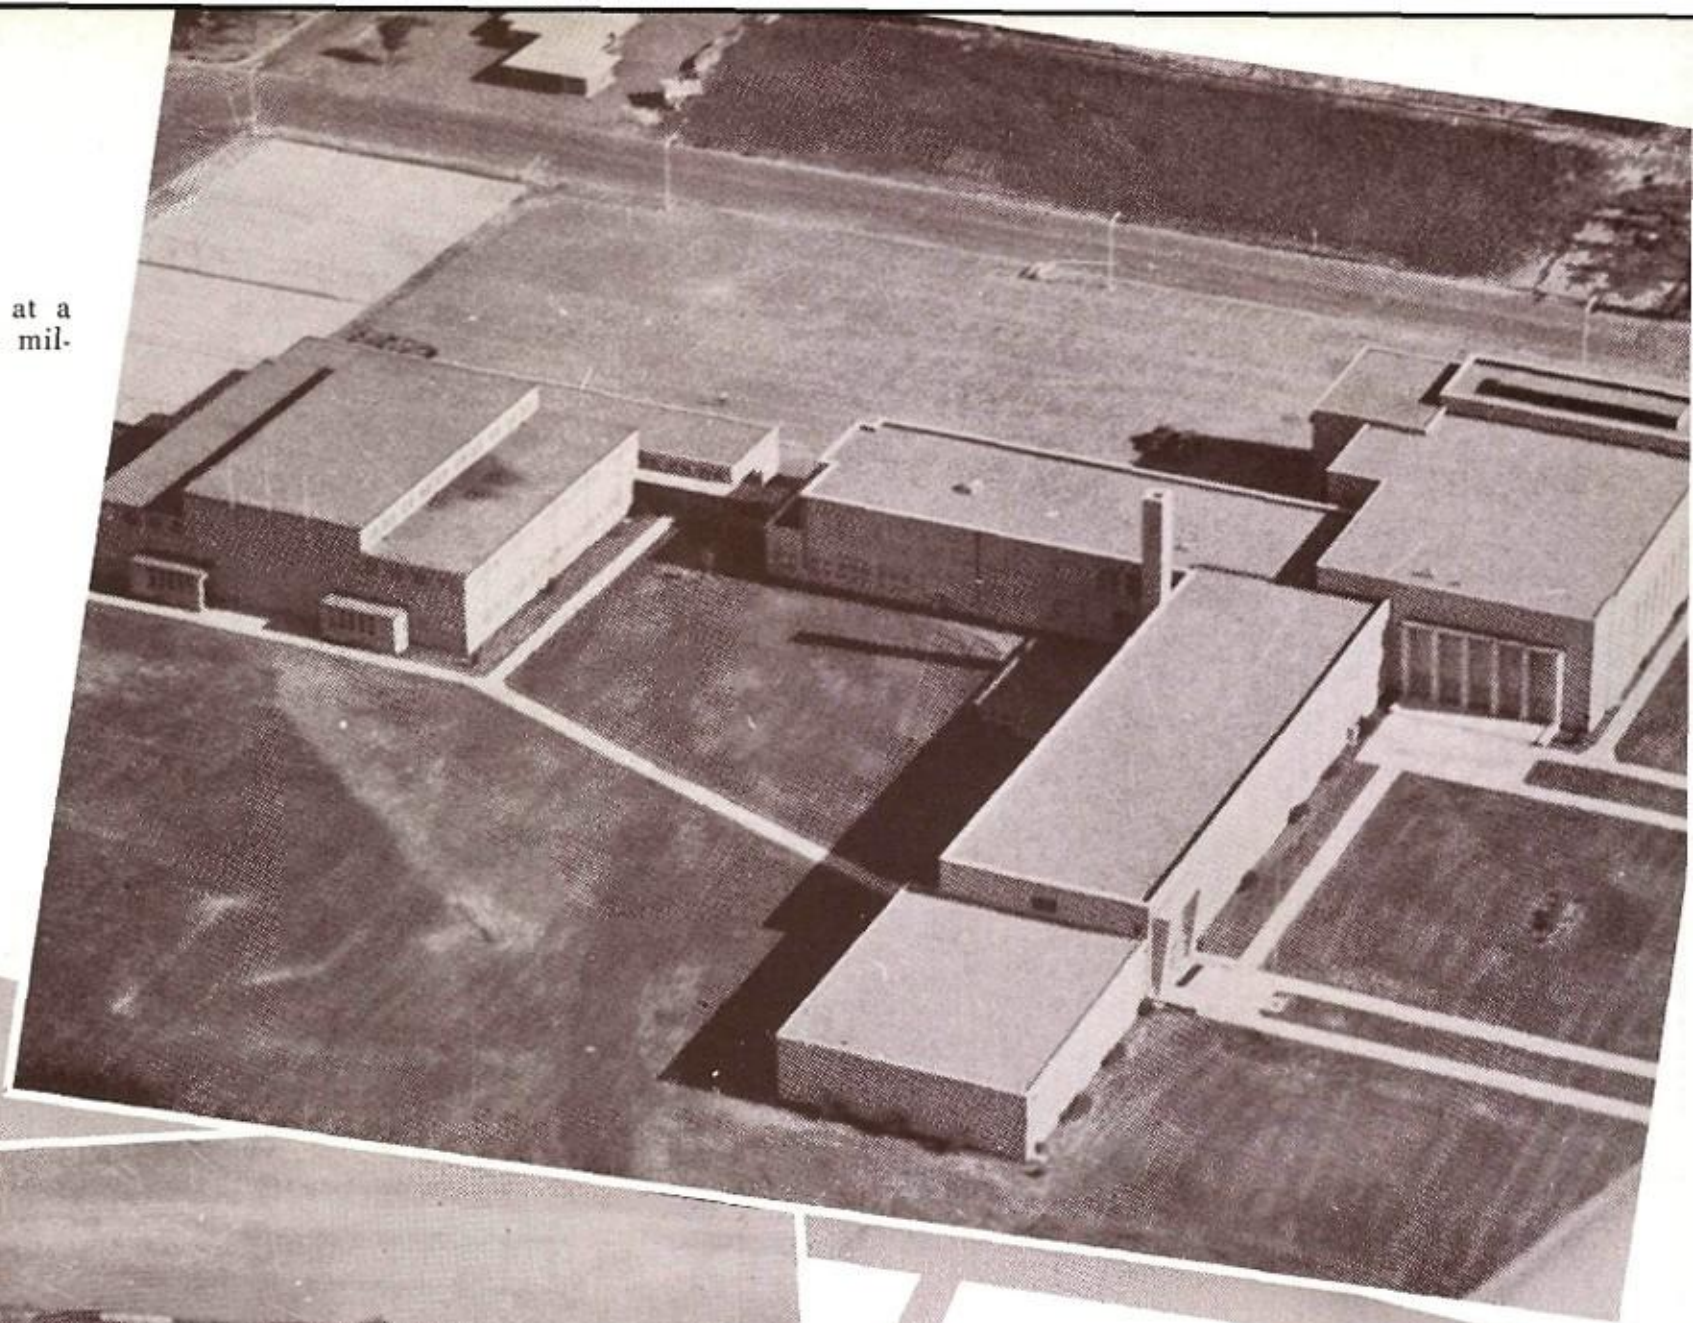

Bulldog Stadium was completed in time for the first home game of the '56-'57 season. It is one of the finest stadiums in this area.

Breezeway leads from the Main building to the gym and vocational annex.

Built four years ago at a cost of more than a million dollars.

New home of the Bulldogs. Dressing rooms for the Stadium are large and can accommodate all of the athletes.

Approximately 1000 students enter these doors each day.

PERSONALITIES

★ GARNETT

Queen Barbara Crowned at PHS Coronation

Amidst all the pageantry and ceremony befitting royalty and in a spectacular array of charm and color, her Majesty Queen Barbara of the House of Hackler was crowned QUEEN OF PLAINVIEW HIGH SCHOOL in the sixth annual Coronation ceremony on November 6, 1956.

Queen Barbara was attended by a royal court of eighty-four Lords and Ladies from the Realm of the Senior Class of Plainview High School. A fanfare of trumpets by four court heralds in full band uniform opened the program with a traditional splash of sound and color. Master of Ceremonies, Edwin Pierce, President of the Junior Class, announced the arrival of the Queen's court. They appeared in the archways as they were introduced—the Ladies of the Court breathtakingly beautiful in fragile rainbow-hued dresses fashioned of velveteen, taffeta, and satin, the Lords gallant and dashing in black tuxedos—and moved to the sides to form a bright background of royal color to receive Queen Barbara. Following their presentation Student Council President Bobby Jack Frye and Garland Wolfington, President of the Senior Class were presented. Then, preceding the arrival of the Queen, came Princess Donna Hanks, escorted by Eugene Barton.

Another fanfare and the slow royal procession began with the Queen regal in white satin, carrying the huge bouquet of red roses and attended by four pages. Upon Queen Barbara's arrival, she knelt and was crowned by Bobby Jack Frye and Garland Wolfington presented her with the scepter, symbol of her position and authority. After the Queen's proclamation, Fay Elliff entertained the Court with piano selections.

Barbara was elected Queen by popular vote of the Student Body. Nineteen nominees were entered in the race. In the run-off election Barbara defeated Donna Hanks, who was named Princess of Plainview High.

Approximately one hundred and twenty seniors participated in the program which has come to be one of the highlights of the school year.

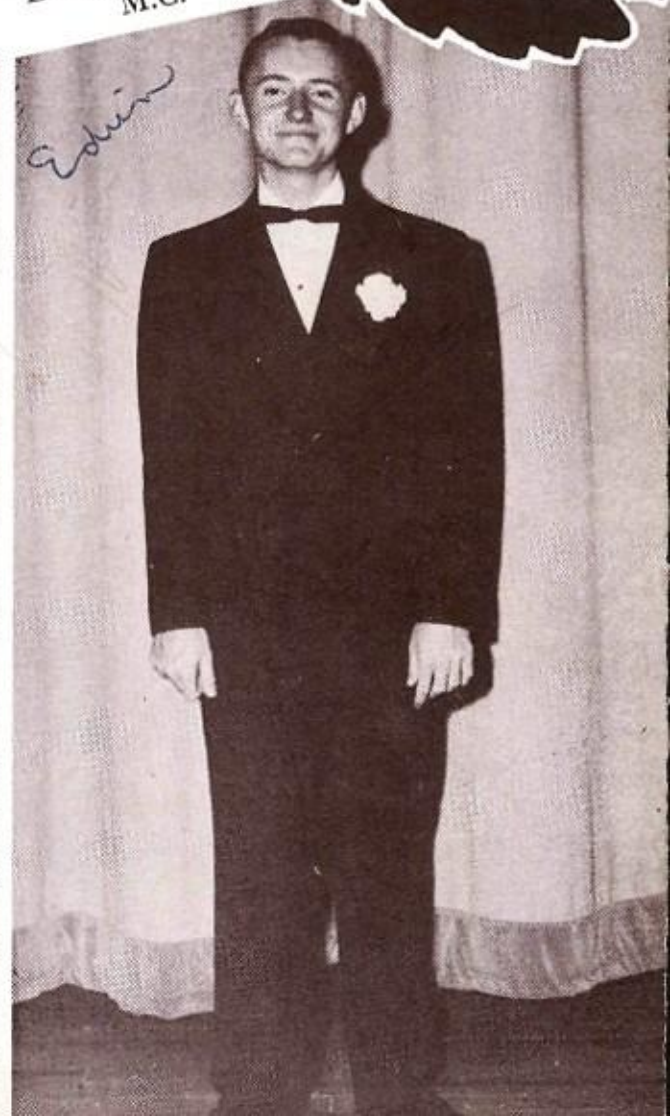

QUEEN BARBARA, attended by pages Evelyn King, Carol Clark, Sarah Beth Hampton, Geraldine Cheek. Also Bobby Jack Frye, Student Council president, and Senior president, Garland Wolfington.

Ladies of the Court were very beautiful in floor-length dresses of rainbow colors fashioned in velveteen, taffeta and satin.

Freshmen

Maybe just lowly Freshmen, but they made up a large part of PHS by sheer numbers. The largest class in the school, the Fish jumped right into the swim of things by electing Vic Yarbrough to steer the class through their first year. Vice president elect was Linda Goodwin. Judy Atkins served as secretary, and Susan Brown kept the class informed as reporter.

District Season Review

Starting the conference play off right, the Bulldogs roared to an impressive 81-73 victory over the Tom S. Lubbock Westerners in the district opener for both teams on January 3. The lead exchanged hands a number of times during the game, but in the last quarter the PHS five pushed ahead and managed to keep an eight point margin for the final gun.

Traveling to Amarillo January 8, the Bulldogs battled the "tall" Sandies and fell 65-71 for 1-1 standing. The next game for the Bulldogs was against the Palo Duro Dons. Palo Duro finally took the game 85-75, coming from behind in the third quarter for the win.

Competing against one of the top contenders for the district title, the Bulldogs dropped their fourth district contest to the Borger squad 53-37. Connecting on 22 of 33 shots, the Borger five completely outclassed the local lads.

Bobby Grace tipped in the winning two points with 20 seconds left on the clock and the Bulldogs slipped in a victory over the Monterey Plainsmen 53-52 in a thriller in PHS gym.

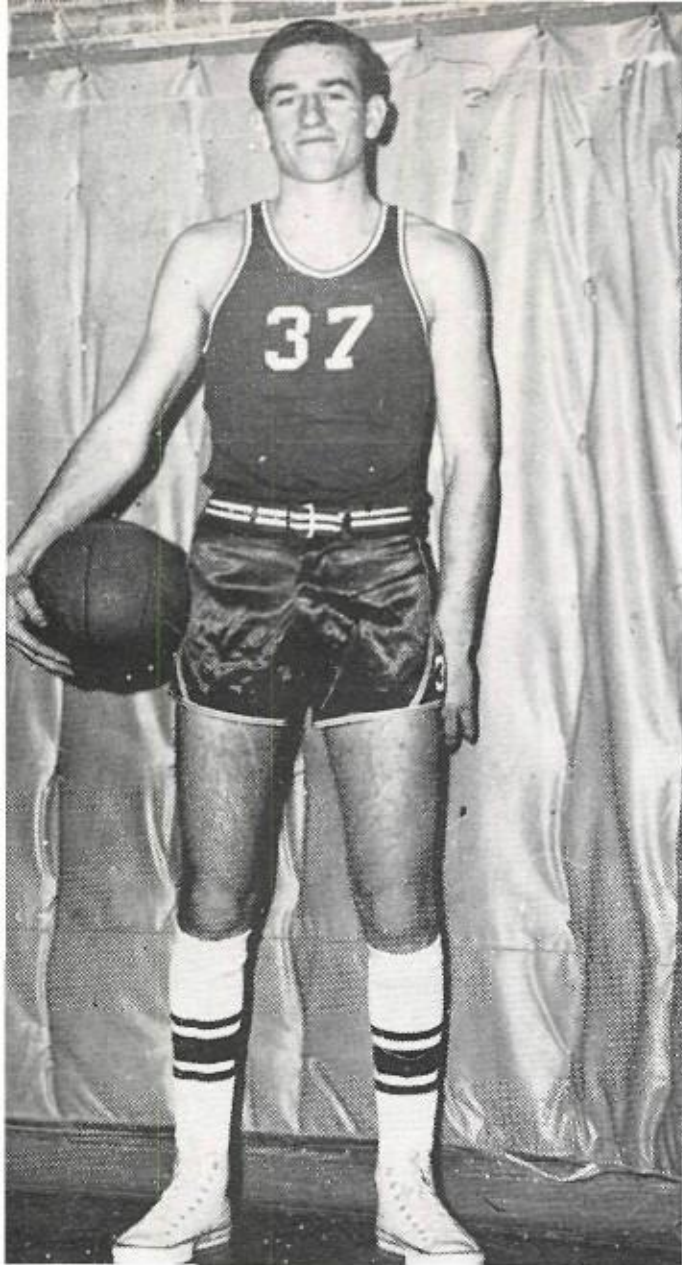

Accuracy from the free throw line proved fatal as the Pampa Harvesters edged the Bulldogs 47-44 on January 22. After three close quarters, the Harvesters beat out the PHS boys by free tosses.

In Lubbock, January 25, the Bulldogs pulled in their third district win as they rolled over the Westerners 60-53 for the second time in the season.

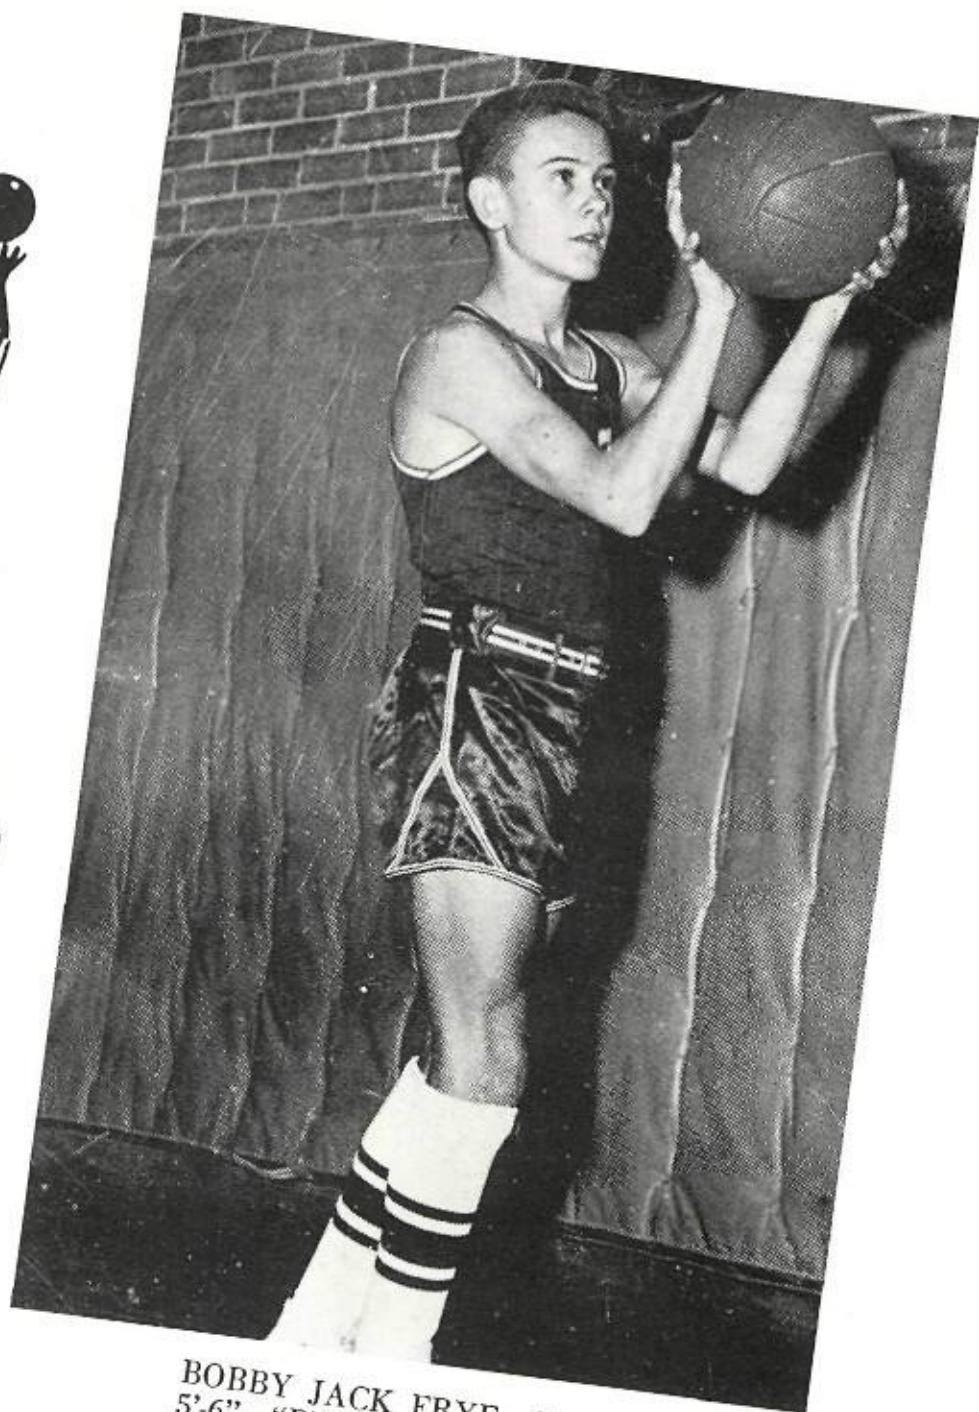

February 1 is a date to be remembered. The Bulldogs downed the Amarillo Sandies 54-44 for the first Plainview victory over Amarillo since 1945. This win left the locals even with 4-4 standing.

Leaping ahead 24-7 in the first quarter of play, the Bulldogs held on to the third slot in district as they downed the Dons 72-64. Rallying in the fourth quarter the Palo Duro boys cut the PHS lead from 26 points in the third quarter to 8 points for the final gun.

With this win, the Bulldogs dropped the final curtain on wins and dropped their last three games to Borger 64-70, Monterey 63-83, and to Pampa in the final game of the season 24-35 and wound up the season in fourth place.

With the coming of September, the Plainview High Band swings into action preparing for the pep rallies, and football games and sets a lively tempo to start spirits soaring. Half-time entertainment at the football games is always tops. They follow the squad on out of town trips to support the Bulldogs.

After football season, while lending their support to the cagers, they start to work to whip the band into a top flight concert band. Winning twenty-one consecutive sweepstakes is evidence of their superiority in the musical field.

JEANNE ELLERD

Twirlers

Always out front, the drum major and twirlers lead the band on every occasion — parade, pep rallies, or half-time show at the sports contests. Executing their routines and marching drills, they add a sparkle needed to make every performance a success.

During the school day, the girls pick up absentees, deliver messages, answer the telephone, file cards, run errands, and in general keep the office routine on schedule. Under the supervision of Mrs. Hubbard, the staff executes a wide variety of jobs. Girls give up their study period to work in the office.
